Sioux Falls Airshow – More than just in the air

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. – For obvious reasons, airshows draw crowds looking to the skies for action. This years Sioux Falls Airshow promises to have just as much going on down on the ground as in the air!

This years Sioux Falls Airshow will feature three of the nations most interactive military displays in the world.

The Virtual Army Experience (VAE) provides participants with a virtual test drive of the United States Army. State-of-the-art Army training simulation technology is used to create a life-size, networked virtual world. It is much like playing a video game of the Army experience. Along with the VAE, the America's Army Real Heroes program will be present as well. Learn more about both at the www.vae.americasarmy.com

The U.S. Air Force Inspire Tour will also be attending. This is an 80' X 80' Air Force interactive truck that consists of a movie trailer, full sized F-16 with the Thunderbird paint scheme, interactive gallery, and educational kiosks. The display also includes an extreme equilibrium ride, video games, and mobile phone marketing component.

The U.S. Navy will also have a flight simulator that will be free to the public and open to all ages.

Along with these outstanding interactive experiences, the airshow will feature numerous static displays, kids' inflatables, and food vendors to keep you busy all day long. This FREE event is July 25th and 26th at Joe Foss Field, SD. Visit the Sioux Falls Airshow website at www.siouxfallsairshow.com for all the details.
